Commissioner for Patents

Art Unit: 2856

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371© of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIA (pre-AIA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-6 and 9-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Wang et al- U.S. Patent # 6,452,201.

Art Unit: 2856

As to claim 1, Wang et al discloses a wafer mapping method of load port equipment including wafer load port equipment 100 with wafer carrier 122 (housing) with wafers 120, a mating plate 150 (coupling region), optical sensors 86 (measuring device), transport and support devices being illustrated in figures 3 and 4 as load port equipment 100 with wheels or rollers and support brace, not numbered. Wang et al does not illustrate a semiconductor product tool but does illustrate a bulkhead 142 which appears to indicate the load port equipment as being used in combination with a tool or semiconductor process equipment, as implied in col. 1, lines 9 et seq. As to claim 11, note movement of the “support” or equipment 100 drawn in phantom by servomotor (col. 3, lines 43-50). As to claims 14 and 15, note keys 132. As to claims 16-17, although a conduct region is not disclosed, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have provided such a region so as to transfer data from the optical sensors 86 to the semiconductor process equipment. As to claim 18, usage of a seal to maintain the environment within the carrier would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention in order to maintain the “clean” air in the carrier and prevent contamination. As to claim 22, note col. 4, lines 2 et seq in which three objectives are discussed via 2 optical sensors. As to claim 20, the bottom “table” of the equipment 100 inherently provides stability and hence provides vibration stability.

4. Claim 7 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 2856

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-6 and 9-24 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication should be directed to N. Fayyaz at telephone number 305-4891.
